

What is Poly Reps?

Poly Reps is a group of approximately 55 Cal Poly student volunteers who assist in promoting Cal Poly to prospective students and their parents, alumni, and potential donors of the university. Poly Reps exemplify Learn by Doing through campus tours, visits to high schools, assisting in special events, and developing leadership and friendship amongst one another.

Sponsored by the Admissions Office, Poly Reps positively represent Cal Poly to students past, present, and future. Poly Reps bring together students from different colleges, majors, and backgrounds with one common thread—they love to promote and support Cal Poly. Poly Reps' goal is to get prospective students to want to come to Cal Poly, but they are ultimately happy that people are pursuing higher education, wherever they end up.

Poly Reps Committees:

The Executive Board consists of the students that lead Poly Reps. Their duties include determining the direction of the organization, combining resources and communicating across committees, and leading Poly Reps meetings. Exec consists of one chair for each of the six committees, as well as the President. The exec board is elected by the entire organization.
